POLITICAL MATTERS.

Assembling of Prominent Republicans at Chicago.

Getting Ready for the Nominating Convention - Colorado Convention - A Full Grant Delegation Probable-Delaware Delegates Instructed for Bayard and Two-Thirds Rule at Cincinnati.

Assembling at Chicago. CHICAGO, May 25 .- A number of prominent politicians, including Senator Cameron, have already arrived here to attend the national republican convention. The arrangements at the exposition building have been nearly comto appoint a committee on credentials, a dele-gate from Chaffee county offered the following:

gate from Chaffee county offered the following:

Whereas, a republican caucus was in session last night for the purpose of determining the work in to-day's convention, and, whereas, we cighty-one delegates to this convention, representing republican counties which east in 1878, 1,700 of the 2,700 imajority received by the republican candidate for governor, were not only not invited to said cancius, but absolutely excluded therefrom on application for admission, simply because of not pronouncing a regular password, never before required at a republican cancius, therefore, we protest against said action, which completely silfies the voice of the strongest republican counties of the state and renders the presence of their representatives a mockery and a farce.

We protest against it because it is contrary to the practices of the republican party of colorado and the country, because it is infair and tyrainical, and hence unrepublican in spiff.

We have not in this convention as friends to fish a common fee and not each other, hence we deny the right of any section of the party to take any secret action which treats us as a foe and unworthy of a share in the proceedings of the convention, though representing as we believe, the sections of the state.

The resolutions motion to raise a committee of credentials was agreed to and a committee largely composed of Grant delegates was appointed. The convention then took a recess until 2 o'clock this afternoon. It seems probable that a solid Grant delegation to the national convention will be chosen.

Delaware Democratic Convention.

Doven, Del., May 25.—The democratic state convention meets here at noon to-day. Most of the delegates are here, and while there seems to be no doubt that the delegation to Cincinnati will be instructed for Bayard, the Saulsbury element, which appears strong, will probably oppose any instructions and cudeavor to secure a part of the delegation for Tilden.

BAYARD AND THE TWO THIRDS BULE. ganization was subsequently made permanent. Delegates to Cincinnati were chosen. A reco-lution instructing delegates to vote for Senator Payard for president was adopted, as was also one recommending the national conven-tion to adhere to the two-thirds rule. The proceedings were not once interrupted by ob-jections or debate and lasted only about two hours. The delegation to Cincinnati, it is be-lieved, will vote as a unit for Mr. Bayard, not-wore destroyed. withstanding the fact that some of the mem-bers are personally antagonistic to him.

To the Editor of The National Republican: Srn: The largest and most enthusiastic meetings over held by republicans of this lo-cality were held at Stafford Court-House, Spottsylvania Court-House and at Fredericksburg Va., on Saturday, the 22d instant. At each of these meetings resolutions were passed, and, with three exceptions at one of the meetings, unanimously passed, instructing the delegates to vote for John W. Woltz, esq., as their first and last choice for congress. At one of the meet-ings a resolution was adopted declaring Judge James B. Sener had forfeited the confidence of all sincere republicans, and that under no circumstances would they support him for politi-cal office. Similar resolutions could and would have been passed at all the meetings had the judge not suddenly departed for his home in the West. The nominating convention meets on Wednesday, the 26th instant, at Tappahannock, and my information from the district is that Mr. Woltz will not be opposed. If nomi-nated, his friends regard his election as a fore-VIRGINIAN. gone conclusion.

money and the worst use of the machine ever known in this country. Behold Louisiana and Mississippi prostrate at the feet of officekelders and corruption funds! But the pur-pose of this communication is to add another cause of thunkfulne-e to those named by "Exculsior," namely, the almost certain proba Chicago. In this belief I wish to prophesy, here aid now, that within two weeks from the date of his nomination the republican party will be a unit in his support and the country ablaze with the wildest enthusiasm. My reasons for this are based on history. Ignoring his great military record and wonderful achievements in the field of war, I point to his civil life, which, when developed and suitably explained, will present him not merely as a martial hero, but a great statesman and a grand citizen, which the country is bound to be proud of and grateful for. Of his civil administration I montion a very few of its leadministration I mention a very faw of its lead-ing acts as they occur to me from memory, leaving to others whose memories are better t enumerate many more noble and distinguished features which characterized his civil service and rendered his administration more re-newned, if possible, then that of the "father of his country :" The restocation of civil gov-erument in the southern states, the successful settlement of the Alabama claims, the repeal of the fax income, a modified oath to enable those in rebeliton to hold office, the castablishment of international postal union, the recognition of France as a republic; operations through our diplomatic and consular offices to ascertain what articles made or grown in the United States could be disposed of, upon which our trade abroad was opened until the balance of trade was in our favor, with all its advantages of wealth, pros-perity and happiness; protecting state gov-eroments in the south, as in South Carolina and Louisians; his action with reference to Cuban filibustering; perfecting commercial re-lations of the most flattering character with Japan. His efforts to purchase Samana bay are now conceded to have been wise. Among the crowning acts of his career are his cordial support of measures for beautifying the national capital, putting it in the way of excelling the most attractive on either continent.

And now, having made the circuit of the world and visited all the leading nations, by whom he has been entertained as an eminent warrior, and as though he were the ruler of the greatest of nations, his selection as the next president will not merely add peace to our own people, but will bring to us such a wealth of emigration, and capital, and trade, and com-merce, and put this country on such a career Colorado Republican Convention.

Denver, Col., May 25.—The republican state convention must here this morning and was called to order by ex-Governor Routt, chairman of the state central committee. Colonel John Cleghorn, a Grant man, was made temporary chairman. Pending a motion to appoint a committee on credentials, a delegate from Chaffee county offered the following:

merce, and put this country on such a career of prosperity as it has never enjoyed. Our territory is almost boundless in extent, extending from the St. Lawrence to the Gulf of exceeds 50,000,000, and increasing at the rate of over half a million a year. The "man of destiny" is the coming man, and it is to be his destiny to do all these things above suggested and to save his country from "Cusar-jan," which fools and real enemies of the rejessed and to save in country from tursar-jesm," which fools and real enemies of the re-public profess to dread. Who but Grant is more capable, more worthy, more deserving, more patriotic to administer the government of a country so vast in territory, so various in interests, so great in population and resources? He is as grand as the grandour of our scenory, our mountains and rivers; our valleys and prairies, our country and our people. Let us have Grant, the republic and peace. U. S. A Heroic Woman.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 25.—In East Green-wich this morning a tramp entered the farm-house of Charles T. Hop kins, and when Mrs. Hopkins returned after a brief absence she found him gathering up the speons and other silver. He turned on her, threw her down, pounded her shockingly, and stripped off her clothing, when sho told him that he could have the money which was in the house if he would let her get up. Hager for the money, he relaxed his hold, when she seized a loaded gus. The tramp tried to wrest it from her, but, unable to do so, be sprang from a window, when Mrs. Hopkins fired. He gave a scream and fled to the woods, where search is now being made for him. The dector was sum-moned for the brave woman. She is dangerously hurt.

Another Danger of the Elevated Railway. Dover, Del., May 25.—The indications this morning were that there would be quite a lively fight between the Saulsbury and Bayard factions attending the democratic state convention, but when that body was organized everything went off smoothly and quietly. Ches. B. Lore, of Wilmington, was elected temporary organization was subsequently made permanent. Delegates to Checimatt were chosen. The union has now thirty-one stations in Asia, with 110 married missionaries, four unsurried men and forty-one unmarried women in Asia and Europe. The movement is generally frowned upon, and it is understood that the missionary union can do all the work through its missionaries with better effect.
